NEWS

FROM THE T.S.A.

The T.S.A. extend a warm welcome to the the Australian Institute of Sport on their second visit to Hobart and look forward to another first class exhibition.
A welcome also to Head Coach Jimmy Shoulder and his assistant Ron Smith along with two Commonwealth guests, Messrs. Richard Griffiths and Suita Helu.

This evening White Eagles, Juventus Pioneer and Croatia Glenorchy have generously agreed to host the Institute players at their respective functions - thanks go to the three clubs for their hospitality.

Next Friday night sees the 1983 Miss Soccer Quest at Wrest Point - tickets are available from the office at $16.00/person - make up a party for an enjoyable night.

The subject of summer soccer has been reported in earlier issues of SOCCER '83 NEWS and the T.S.A. have now resolved the proceed with a competition. An entry form is included in this issue and further details can be obtained from the Association office.

The Association are looking into the further development of K.G.V. and are intested in moving the offices to Grove Road along with construction of new meeting rooms, media facilities etc etc. Any ideas from soccer officials, players & supporters are welcome.

Finally there will not be an issue of SOCCER '83 NEWS tomorrow.

THE AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF SPORT & THE STATE UNDER 16 SQUADS FLY "OUR T.A.A." - SOCCER SPONSORS

From Don Edwards - Vice Chairman of the T.S.A.

The recent performances of the Australian Youth Squad and the visit to Hobart this weekend of the Institute of Sport team raises the question as to the training and development of a young soccer player so that he may reach the standard to join such squads.

There is ample evidence from the fields of physical education, human movement studies and sports medicine that the experiences some of our young, and very young players are having in playing games, is not in the best interest of them as young people nor in the best interest of them as players in the game.

Top wolrd coaches agree that it is never too early to start playing the game. They do not agree with those who say that teenagers give the game away because they started to play at too young an age. Nearer the truth is that they have not enjoyed their experiences.

Young players should not be treated as little adults and participation should be focussed towards fun and enjoyment. There should be a gradual development from playing with a ball to competition. The 5 a side, and 9 a side games should be used by the young player who should not advance to the 11 a side competition until they are in the Under 12 age group. From then on the competitioon level should be gradually increased until the players is ready for Interstate competition at the age of sixteen.

This year will see the first Oceana Under 16 championships held in New Zealand in December and it will be from the Australian squad that our future young Socceroos will come

One question that should be asked. Do players have a responsibility to the paying public? With games played on Sundays the performances of some players in recent matches indicates that an early night and a good rest before the game was furthermost from their minds.

Supporters and other members of the team are entitled to better displays than some are giving, and it is time that Coaches backed by their committees took a firm stand.
